Free T.B. Survey Is Planned For Lac la Biche

LAC LA BICHE. — Every man, woman and child in the Lac la Biche area will be given the opportunity of safeguarding their health by having a free chest X-Ray when a community X-Ray survey begins here shortly. Announced last night, the survey will be conducted under the auspices of the Department of Health and the Alberta Tuberculosis Association.

In order that every Lac la Biche citizen may be registered for the survey, a house-to-house canvass will be made covering a period before the actual survey gets under way

An X-Ray will take only a few moments of each person's time. The most up-to-date mobile equipment, which uses 70 mm. film and can handle 75 persons an hour will be used. These miniature plates, when read by experts, are just as accurate as full-size X-Rays. A nurse will be in attendance. X-Rays are taken through the clothing.

Tuberculosis of the lungs, if found in the early stage and treated is almost always completely curable. Nevertheless, nearly as many Canadians died from this disease during the war as were killed by enemy action. More persons die from tuberculosis in Alberta than from all other infectious diseases combined.

Further plans regarding the Lac la Biche survey will be announced as they are completed. In the meantime, public health officials are most anxious that everyone give the project their wholehearted co-operation. With this co-operation they are convinced that Lac la Biche will be well in the forefront of Alberta communities in the prevention of tuberculosis.

Two Thousand Ships Are Going Down to the Sea

PEACETIME FLEETS of about 2,000 vessels (700 for foreign countries) of over 100 gross tons (long tons) are now being built in Britain. Pictured above are two new liners as they lay in London's King George V Dock before sailing on their maiden voyages. Top: The sleek Port Brisbane, a 12,000 tons motor vessel for freight runs between Britain, New Zealand and Australia. Her rounded superstructure makes the Magdalena, 18,000 tons and pictured bottom, seem more orthodox, but compared with older vessels the Magdalena is a streamlined, rakish ship. She replaces a British vessel, lost during the war, on runs between Europe and South America. She will carry 479 passengers and freight.

U.C. Ladies' Aid Meeting Notes

LAC LA BICHE. — The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Aid was held on the evening of May 2 at the home of Mrs. J. Honnochko with 11 members present. The president opened the meeting by leading the members in the Lord's Prayer. The devotional service was based on the theme of Youth and Christian Liberty.

The meeting then proceeded with the roll call and the minutes of the April meeting.

The president thanked the ladies for their co-operation in the home cooking sale and in cleaning the church. The secretary reported the proceeds of the sale were $36.50.

The executive then reported that due to the condition of the manse they had hired Mr. Shaw and Mr. Jacks to house-clean it. The board agreed to pay $20.00 to help cover this expense.

The ladies decided to get new floor coverings for the rooms in the manse. It was moved by Mrs. Williams and seconded by Mrs. Hayduk that we ask each member to donate a dollar to help pay for the floor covering. The motion was carried and Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Hayduk were asked to canvass for the money. The president and secretary were instructed to buy the floor covering and the men were to be asked to help in laying it.

The ladies decided to meet after the floor covering was laid to put the manse in order.

Mrs. Procter was to speak to some boys about removing the rubbish from the yard.

The president then suggested that we revive our old rule that lunches for the meetings must be simple. The ladies agreed and also decided that in view of the small attendance at the meetings the members serve one at a time.

Mrs. Cadzow moved the meeting adjourn and Mrs. Hayduk seconded the motion.

Mrs. Cadzow agreed to act as hostess on June 6.

We were then served a delicious lunch by Mrs. Honnochko and Mrs. D. Hamar.

Fire Protection Would Be Cheaper

On Thursday afternoon, April 21, Czar experienced the worst fire in many years. The Alberta Pool and National elevators were burned to the ground and the upper part of the Searle was damaged.

A great deal of credit is due the Provost fire department which answered the call for help so readily. All available fire equipment was used to try and extinguish the flames at first but the wind being so strong made it impossible to overcome. However with the aid of the C.P.R engine as a reserve for the water pump from Provost the flames in the Searle elevator were brought under control.

Late last week anxiety was still being felt as to the wheat and wood still burning. Men and trucks have been doing a great deal of work to get the burning wheat moved away. Volunteers from town have been on watch all day and night since the fire. And have been pumping water whenever signs of new burning appears.

We have before editorialized on the need of modern up-to-date fire equipment for each town and village. A few thousand dollars for a fire truck capable of delivering a steady water "foam" under pressure, immediately available in Czar, would possibly have saved $50,000.00 in fire losses.

Sooner or later we are going to get around to protecting our communities with proper fire-fighting tools. If we do it sooner we'll save money.

B. of M. Studies "Cyclical Taxation"

MONTREAL. — An appraisal of Canada's 1944 budget in relation to theories of cyclical taxation occupies much of the Bank of Montreal's latest monthly Business Review, which was issued today.

"From the standpoint of its provisions and the economic assumptions upon which they apparently rest," the B. of M. says, "the new budget stands in decided contrast to that of year ago."

The 1948 budget, it points out, devoted a substantial surplus to debt reduction and provided virtually no tax relief. It was thus "a notable example of the practical application of cyclical fiscal theory to meet an inflationary situation." The present budget anticipated only a nominal surplus in the current fiscal period and provided tax reductions totalling approximately $369 millions on the basis of a full year's operations.

"These tax concessions," the statement notes, "taken in conjunction with the disbursement of $250 millions of refundable personal income tax and retroactive payments of about $214 millions to western wheat growers amount, in aggregate, to a very sizable stimulus to consumer spending power.

THEORY AND PRACTICE

"The question obviously arises whether underlying conditions, present and prospective, have altered to the extent that must be inferred from such a reversal of the budgetary position."

Only to raise this question, the B. of M. stresses, points up a fundamental difficulty in the theory that a government's budget can be made to compensate for fluctuations in consumer and business spending, thus serving as an economic balance wheel.

"On paper the theory is attractive," the bank comments. "But one must ask whether, in practice, it is within the power of any government to foresee the swings of the business cycle and, presumably strictly aloof from political considerations, accurately to time major changes in taxation policy so that the result will be a contribution to stability.

POSSIBLE DEFLATION OFFSET

"In the present instance," the review continues, "it may be that the budget has not overshot the mark and will prove a valuable offset to more pronounced deflationary tendencies than have yet developed in this country, or than were apparently foreseen by earlier optimistic official forecasts of the national income for 1949.

"Should this be so, the budget will have achieved the dual objective of popular appeal and of desirability on broad economic grounds."

The general satisfaction on the part of a tax-weary public rather tended to becloud the fact that the government had budgeted for yet another increase in expenditures, the B. of M. remarks. While most of the increase might be accounted for by additional defence requirements, it was apparent that ordinary peace-time outlays showed no sign of diminishing.

NO INCOME TAX FOR TWO IN THREE

"A significant and related fact," the bank adds, "is that, with the removal of some 750,000 taxpayers from the personal income tax roll by the raising of exemptions, the number of persons now subject to direct levy on income has been reduced to about 1,600,000.

"Since the Canadian working force is estimated at approximately 5,000,000 persons, it follows that about two out of every three of these will not be directly aware, through even nominal deductions from income, of the cost of governmental services that the community demands."

The cost must nevertheless be borne, the review amphasizes, and henceforward to an increased degree the public will pay it in the form of hidden taxes.

RAILWAY SHUNTING BY RADIO

Railway shunting engines at one of Britain's largest freight yards have been equipped with radio telephones. It is an experiment sponsored by the railway executive to test the efficiency of radio-telephony for control of freight traffic. It is the first time that such a system has been employed for railway work in Britain. It is being used on certain railway systems in the United States. If United Kingdom trials now being made are successful radio-control may be installed at freight depots throughout the country.

CITY POLICE CRACK DOWN ON SHOOTINGS

This spring police and civic officials in Edmonton started a serious crackdown on youngsters using firearms, air rifles and slingshots.

Increasing concern over firearms in the hands of youngsters developed into action following death of a south side schoolboy in a sham gunfight with .22 rifles, and complaints from street railway officials that passengers narrowly escaped injury when someone took potshots at street cars on the High Level bridge.

Springtime always has been a dangerous time of year, with juveniles armed with all sorts of weapons—out hunting the first gophers, rabbits, and birds, or taking shots at bottles on a fence. Sometimes the potting at bottles became dull, or gophers were hard to find, and the youngsters turned to sham battles or to ambushing passers-by.

The danger of playing with guns was suddenly driven home to two south side youngsters when their companion, young Roden Case, was killed during a mock battle with live .22 ammunition. During an inquest into the boy's death his companions tearfully said they had played a similar game before and did not realize the danger of pointing guns at one another.

NARROW ESCAPES

A CPR baggage-man inside a coach crossing the High Level bridge narrowly escaped injury when a missile smashed through a window by his head. Similar complaints were received from street car passengers on the bridge. Police said they thought the missiles were fired from sling shots below the bridge.

A get-tough policy against juvenile offenders caught with weapons was issued to Edmonton's policemen and one constable was loaned to juvenile authorities to bring in the culprits. By April 25, five cases of wilful damage through shooting were filed with juvenile authorities.

Five youngsters had firearms confiscated while shooting along railway tracks near 116 street. Reports of two boys being hit by air gun pellets were recorded. Two youngsters playing on Stony Plain road added realism to their play by "ambushing" an Indian with an air rifle.

In addition to personal injuries, property damage mounted as youngsters took shots at windows, railway and highway signs, and railway waterbarrels.

PARENTS TO BLAME

Opinions varied on what should be done to curb the increasing vandalism and personal injuries. Three civic authorities, Crown Attorney Donald G. Masson, Juvenile Court Judge C. F. Willis, and Police Chief Reg. Jennings were inclined to blame the shootings on home life and parental upbringing.

The suggested solution was to educate the parents in instructing their offsprings on the dangers of firearms. Some thought the onus should be on the schools, but teachers pointed out that most schools have extensive safety-first programs in all grades.

Edmonton's lusty Edmonton Bulletin recommended in an editorial that Constable D. ("Doc") McNaughton's junior police force plan should be revived to encourage the kids to stay on the side of the law. The junior police plan has lapsed into the background as a result of mayoral opposition and opposition of some Home and School groups.

Another approach taken by police was to crack down on people who sold firearms and ammunition to juveniles under 14 years of age (Section 126, Criminal Code). Two Edmonton merchants were summonsed on May 2 to appear in police court under charges from Section 126, the following week.

It looked as though forces were finally being organized to stamp out the careless, and often dangerous, handling of fireams by youngsters.

RUNNING WATER

Saves Time—Eliminates Drudgery.

Increases Production.

Promotes Health and Sanitation.

One of the basic essentials to profitable farming is a plentiful supply of water for all purposes. In improving and modernizing farm properties one of the first considerations is the installation of a pressure water system which repays well in satisfaction, time saved and in extra profits for investment.

The daily drudgery of pumping water for livestock can be eliminated by installing a water pressure system. It costs very little to operate one of these systems—two or three cents daily for an abundant water supply.

Having fresh water available in barn, poultry house and hog pens means faster gains, increased egg production and more milk and butterfat.

It is easy to install a MASSEY-HARRIS WATER PRESSURE SYSTEM. Why not enjoy the many advantages that running water can bring to your farm? For further information regarding this and for all your other farm equipment, call on Approximately 50 members were present at the meeting, presided over by F. Condon. After the minutes of the previous meeting were read, discussed and adopted the treasurer's report was given. This showed all obligations retarded and a balance left in the bank.

The secretary reported that in a communication received from H.N. headquarters in New York, he was informed the new badges and other paraphernalia would arrive here in about three weeks' time. The delay was attributed to shortage of the material necessary for same.

Father Volk, with marked perspicuity, addressed the meeting. This was followed by suggestions from members for the good of the society.

The proposed herd law for the village is slated to take in more area than seems reasonable or necessary. Some settlers state that it is poor policy to enforce herd law in areas where so much land lies uncultivated. Very few, however, object to the herd law for the village itself.

HYLO LOCAL NEWS

HYLO.—A very close ball game was played between the Hylo and Venice school teams on the Hylo Ladies' Society playgrounds. Both teams showed determination and sportsmanship even though certain officials can't seem to understand that it's just very possible that a 15-year-old in grade 8 might be a great deal better ball player than a 14-year-old in grade 9. According to psychologists it works that way nevertheless It is certainly a detriment if officials can't be sports in sports.

The Women's branch of membership of the Misericordia Church of Hylo held a meeting on Sunday, May 8, in final preparation toward the "macaroni and chicken" supper that will be held in the church at Hylo from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. on May 15. After the supper there will be a show presented by Rev. Father Oulette of the Venice-Hylo parish, in Mr. C. Keehn's hall. Dancing is planned on after midnight or in the wee hours of Monday morning. That sounds like a very full evening of varied entertainment as well as good food.

The Hylo Ladies' Society meeting will be held at Mrs. J. Coli's home on May 12, where final discussions toward the annual picnic will take place.

The Home and School will hold their meeting on May 19 in the school. A report will probably be presented by the canvasers for money toward the picture show machine and power generator.

Mr. Peter Tymchuk returned from a brief trip to Innisfree where he attended the wedding of his grand-nephew. He returned not empty handed, for he brought with him various perennial shrubs and flowers toward his landscaping enterprise. We are looking forward to enjoying a beauty spot in Hylo when the summer wears on, Mr. Tymchuk.

The company of Miss Williams, district nurse for Grassland, was enjoyed in Hylo when she made her final round of inoculations and vaccinations on May 10. Come again, Miss Williams, even though we likely won't be needing any more serums. We'd love having you even if only for brief visits.

The Hylo Sports Club will hold ball practice at the Ladies' Society sports grounds for reorganization purposes on May 15 at 2 p.m. Come on fellows, here's your chance to work out some of your extra energy, kill some of your extra time and show some of your co-operative abilities. Big plans are in the making so be there to share them all.

Mrs. H. Kennedy and children took a brief holiday visit to Lac la Biche by train on Sunday evening. Dagmer and Verna were back in time for school classes on Monday morning.

Mr. James Bjorgan is out on trial runs with the Wandering River to Athabasca bus. We hope you've got what you like, Jimmy, even though we'll regret to see you and Dot leave us.

Mrs. Henry Bjorgan and Hazel returned from a trip to Demaine, Sask., where Mary attended her mother's funeral. Our heartfelt sympathies go to you in your bereavement.

We are glad to see that wee Donnie Coli, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Coli is again chipper as ever after his brief visit to the St. Catherine's hospital a couple of weeks ago.

Mrs. Katherine Wolanski's aunt and her husband of B.C. visited her on Monday, May 9.

A fire ravaged the muskeg north west of Hylo hamlet on Friday, May 6. However, by the tedious and gallant work of the Venice section crew the fire was held back from any serious damages. Noral section crew also appeared in case of extra need of hands. Thanks boys, Hylo might have been wiped out, when everything is like tinder.

We regret to hear that Mrs. Sam Gondinetti has been suffering from her old ailment. We all wish you a speedy recovery and extend sympathy.

It is wonderful to see Mr. Bill Kaduk's cabinet making business going so well. Bill apparently is a good hand at making boats as well. He is at present constructing one for Mr. Stanley Grandish. We're looking gorward to sweeps over the lake, Stan.

Warren School Is Progressing

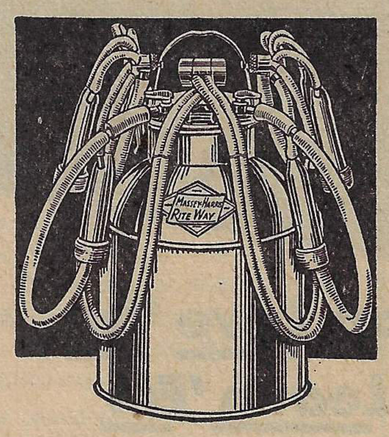

BOYLE.—The Warren school is gradually progressing in the line of "better looks." For the past two weeks two men were stuccoing the outside while several were doing finishing touches on the inside.

There are now three buses coming in to this school and it is hoped that next year one more will be making the trip, this being Flat Creek or Donatville school.

In years to come a high school will be built apart from the public school. The home economics and shop classes will be giving a display of their year's work on June 17.

You Can Love 'Em and Leave 'Em

YOU'LL "love" the low fuel and oil consumption of a Fairbanks-Morse "Z" Engine. But best of all you'll like the way you can leave a "Z" Engine working unattended for hours.

For 30 years these farm engines have been famed for giving dependable, economical service. Today's improved models are even better than the earlier ones. Their low speed means slow wear. Their simple, single-cylinder design makes them easy and inexpensive to service—without calling a repair man.

Sizes range to 30 hp., so there's a "Z" Engine for every farm job . . . for pumping and for driving milking machines and coolers, saws, hoists, elevators, and other farm equipment.

Easy to get inside

Easy to service

Crankshaft, bearings, connecting rod, piston, and gears are all easily accessible for inspecting and servicing.

O.C. Ladies' Aid Hold Program Fashion Parade

OHATON.—The Ohaton United Ladies' Aid held a successful amateur program and fashion parade in the Community hall on Friday evening, realizing approximately $110.

Marion Walline opened the program by singing "Memories," which was followed by fashions from 1890 to the present. Fashions included capes, hooped skirts, leg o' mutton sleeves, short fur coats, long christening dresses, bridal gown from the 1800's. A definite contrast was shown from the long, tight fitting gowns to the short, loose, low waisted dresses of 1927. There was also some men's clothing modelled which included high silk hats, swallow-tailed coats, tight cuffed pants and still collars.

The highlight of the fashion show was the six wedding gowns modelled by the six most recent brides who carried wedding bouquets. Each bride was accompanied by a bridesmaid in a colored gown. The bridal parade was led by little Patsy Sheets as flower girl, who looked charming in a long rose taffeta gown trimmed in blue. Miss Phyllis Roth, one of the brides maids, very beautifully sang "Because."

The future was portrayed by Miss Atom of 1960 who fashioned longer shoes with garters below the knees, a tight short fitting skirt and shortie coat. Her hat was a felt pill box style, trimmed with gay flowers and pussy willows. When Miss Atom took a final bow, two eggs dropped from her hat.

Miss Eva Briggs very ably acted as master of ceremonies and commentated throughout the program.

Dwayne Roth was chairman for the amateur program which was as follows: Solo, Betty Peacock, Bawlf; recitation, Laverne Lemke, Bawlf; piano solo, Donna Harrison, Ohaton; recitation, Margaret Havlik, Ohaton; piano duet, Patsy and Mona Harrison, Bawlf; monologue, Mary Nelson, Ohaton; solo, Doreen Roth, Ohaton; recitation, Lois Connelly, Ohaton; piano solo, Margaret Stett, Bawlf; skit by Melba and Joyce Zimmerman, Kelsey; solo, Francis Granger, Ohaton; duet by Joyce and Erlip Albright, Ohaton; monologue by Eva Briggs, Ohaton; solo, Doris Scheideggar, Ohaton; stunts by Garry Albright, Ohaton; duet, Henry Lambert and Fred Mason, Ohaton; duet, Sonja Nyback and Elouise Swanson, Ohaton; solo, Fred Mason, Ohaton.

The amateur numbers were capably judged by Mrs. Jim Ellis of Kelsey, and Mrs. Helen Brager and Oscar Fadumn of Bawlf. The results were as follows:

Vocal: 1, Betty Peacock; 2, Erlip and Joyce Albright; 3, Henry Lamber and Fred Mason; honorable mention, Sonja Nyback and Elouise Swanson.

Elocution: 1, Laverne Lemke; 2, Mary Nelson; 3, Eva Briggs; honorable mention, Joyce and Melba Zimmerman.

Piano Selections: 1, Patsy and Nona Rhyrason; 2, Mary Stitt; 3, Donna Harrison.

Little Garry Albright received honorable mention and high praise for the talent and sense of balance which he showed while standing on his head on the floor and on a chair ,and also while walking on his hands.

1833 School Days—From the Life of Peter Erasmas

By H. T. THOMSON

Reading Mr. Nicholas Yurkiw's article, Problems Child Punishment, I submit an extract given to me by Peter Erasmas, famous interpretor and guide and his comments on his own school days.

Mr. Peter Erasmas was educated to the ministry but on reaching his final decision, chose an occupation more in line with his tendency to adventure—was guide for the Palliseer Expedition, interpreted for commissioners making treaties with the Indians. He led an adventurous and useful life and died at Goodfish Lake at the ripe old age of one month short of 97 years

Recollections of my birth place in the Red River settlements are mostly of attending schools where 20 children were taught the rudiments of education by James Settee, an educated Swampy Cree Indian, taken at an early age by the English church and trained in the collegiate at Winnipeg.

Discipline was very strict. Woe betide any child who attempted any advantage over this soft-spoken, quiet-mannered gentleman. Any ebulliency of spirit other than concentrated devotion to study was not tolerated in the school room, infractions were quickly dealt with. My own rebellious leaning soon learned the futility of anything but strict obedience.

Summary justice of the birch quelled the most rebellious of our little band into fairly studious children. No one dared to appeal to parents as to have done so would certainly have meant added punishment at home. The teacher in those days held the full confidence and trust of the parents with few if any exceptions.

Education was a serious business. A good supple birch was considered a very necessary part in any school course. Freedom from its use was gained only by good conduct and progress in our studies.

Strange to say, we soon accepted preponderance of the birch as a necessary evil. Docility in the school room became not a sign of weakness but a matter of good judgment.

Our next teacher, John Garret, took over the reins of government with no less respect for the birch than his predecessor, in fact was more addicted to its use, with much less judgment as to its justice and for less consideration for its place of application or effect.

Being a hefty son of a Hudson Bay factor, he had a keen sense of the importance of his position and own person.

However, this did not interfere with progress in our studies but it did help us to an appreciation of the fine character and honesty of our former teacher, James Settee, in his efforts to make us learn to become useful citizens.

HERE and THERE

By T.W.P.

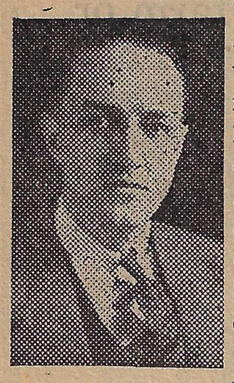

I have just finished my spring planting—of potatoes, of course. It didn't take long, either. Only about three weeks elapsed since the first potato was dropped into the ground until the last seed was covered up. Of course, I did other things during these three weeks. But three weeks isn't bad—for me—when you consider the area to be planted was as much as would be occupied by a good-sized garage for one car, says a Ford or a Cadillac.

FORETHOUGHT HELPS

Last year I didn't finish seeding the potato crop until late in May. But there was a good reason for that. I had to dig the ground before I could plant the spuds and I had the forethought to do the digging for this year's operations last fall. Now I can hardly wait to see which comes up first — potato plants or weeds. I have a heck of a time telling which is which when they came up at the same time.

NO REMARKS, PLEASE!

Even my wife says she's proud of my efforts to provide food for the family table. At least that's what she tells me. I overheard her telling someone else last fall about my wonderful potato crop. She said, "Bill's finished digging the potatoes, and I guess we'll have to use them to humor him. Some are as big as marbles, some as big as peas and of course there are some little one, too."

T. W. Pue

All year the poor girl has been so solicitous about my agricultural program I didn't have the heart to take her to task for this remark.

A DISAPPEARING RACE

Better men than me will continue with agriculture—and grow better potatoes. But the old-time printer with his country print shop, which started an era in Ontario 100 years ago and moved west 50 years later with the new settlers, is fast disappearing.

Steadily rising costs of printing production, shortage of printers (and particularly the type willing to leave a good salaried job to take on the trials and tribulations of an independent publisher), and the glamor of the cities for those printers have contributed heavily to the loss in country printing and publishing.

Just recently I heard that the Yellowknife paper has had to suspend publication because it is impossible to keep a printer there. When you consider how far Yellowknife is from the city, and the costs of living there you can't really blame these men for wanting to work and live closer in to civilization.

I hope that someone will take that paper over and put it back into business.

WE'VE BROUGHT BACK SOME

In August, 1946, we took over publication of the Lougheed Journal, Hardisty World, Amisk Advocate, Hughenden Record and Czar Clipper. For a year these papers were suspended and Mr. Betts, owner and publisher, was unable to interest any fellow printers or publishers in these towns until we took them over. However, one nearby publisher has since become interested in some of our towns down that line.

The Killam News, which had been suspended for 25 years (it had formerly been published by Mr. Eastly, Sr., father of the present publisher of the Sedgewick Community Press) was reorganized by us in November, 1946. We later established the Strome Star, Daysland Sun, Bawlf Banner, Millet Bulletin, Forestburg Free Press and Morinville Journal for towns that had had papers before and lost them.

It will be 10 years from now before there are sufficient printers trained who would go into the country shop and it is a safe bet to say that if we hadn't resumed publications of papers for these towns when we did, they'd have waited many years to have had their own papers.

MORTALITY RATE STILL HIGH

The Lac la Biche Herald suspended publication on December, 1947 and we resumed in October, 1948. The Beiseker Times and Rockyford Review dropped out of the picture in May, 1948, and we've just put them back in in the last few weeks.

The Crossfield Chronicle quit in December, 1948, and we've also resumed publication of that paper. The Lamont Banner suspended in October, 1948, and has not been resumed.

Dean of Alberta Weekly publishers, Mr. J. D. Skinner of Sangudo is announcing suspension of the Lac Ste. Anne Chronicle, being unable to secure a printer to operate his well-equipped shop.

The Edgerton Enterprise and Chauvin Chronicle have been merged with the Wainwright Star and the Chauvin printing shop closed up.

While so many towns are losing their paper, Boards of Trade in other towns have been anxious to get and hold papers. Smoky Lake, a town of 1,000 population want a paper. The merchants at Mannville got together and assisted the publisher to get a paper resumed.

SOME DON'T APPRECIATE IT

You would think that with the situation the way it is, every town would give the most co-operation possible to keep its paper, if it is lucky enough to have one. You would think that every merchant would do all he could to support the paper published for his town. In the main, I feel we have the good-will and support of the people in our districts. The price of reader loyalty to the home-town paper is small—less than 4 cents per week.

We will continue to bend every effort to publish all the local news possible in each of our papers, and with the help of the home-town merchant who advertises in your home-town paper we can continue to keep your town on the map with its own paper.

SAVING CANADIAN LIVES

Early diagnosis and treatment of tuberculosis has saved many lives, but TB patients must be careful to follow their doctor's instructions to the letter if they wish to avoid the danger of a relapse. Patients discharged from sanatoria need time to accustom their bodies to the routine of living. Work tolerances must be developed slowly. Take it slowly for a while.

OUR CHANGING WORLD

Our pioneer ancestors, who spent most of their time chopping down trees, plowing rocky, root-strewn fields and carving a civilization out of the wilderness, had little difficulty keeping physically fit. But modern Canadians who earn their daily bread by toiling over a desk are not so fortunate. For these desk-bound people, carefully-planned exercise is a daily necessity.

SURE PROTECTION

Immunization can protect your child's life against diphtheria, smallpox and whooping cough. Every year children die in Canada from these diseases and almost without exception their lives could have been saved by immunization. This service is free at health clinics everywhere, is practically painless and absolutely safe. It is your responsibility to protect your children this safe, easy way.

A COMPLETE REST

Every worker needs a complete holiday rest at least once a year. Everyone needs a break from routine, a change in the pace of living. Executives who fail to take vacations because of pressure of work, or craftsmen who prefer the bigger paycheck to an annual holiday, are doing themselves a disservice. The body needs time to recuperate now and then. Give yourself a chance to be healthy.

THE ONLY SAFE MILK

Pasteurization is a safe, easy, inexpensive means of protecting ourselves against milk-borne disease. Contrary to some reports, pasteurization has little or no effect on the food value of milk and is just as easily digested as the raw product. While pasteurized milk is available in most urban areas of Canada, it may be pasteurized at home with little difficulty.

UNSEEN DANGER

Rural water supplies can be a source of danger if the wells are not constructed in the proper manner. The well should be placed on fairly high ground so that surface water cannot drain into it. It should be covered to protect it from dirt and should be cleaned regularly. Most areas in Canada provide a testing service to ensure that well water is free from dangerous bacteria.

Beiseker District Board of Trade
MAT. SCHMALTZ, President

Beiseker, Alberta, April 22, 1949.

T. W. Pue, Esq.,
Community Publications of Alberta,
10815-82nd Avenue,
Edmonton, Alberta.

Dear Mr. Pue:

We were pleased to receive your letter of April 7th and we believe it would be a matter of general interest if you were to publish a news article along the lines of the following as a boost for your efforts in this district:

"The Beiseker and District Board of Trade wishes to congratulate Mr. T. W. Pue, editor and publisher of "Community Publications of Alberta" for his enterprise in commencing the publication of "The Beiseker Times" in this district. Since this paper was discontinued about one year ago it has been sorely missed and the need for such a paper has often been the subject of discussion at our Board of Trade meetings.

"Our new editor, Mr. Pue, commenced publishing local papers for small communities such as ours in 1946 and he has rapidly extended his interests until he is now the editor of some twenty-six papers.

"A separate paper is printed for each place but they all carry the same classified section which is a decided advantage to advertisers owing to the extensive circulation.

"The Beiseker and District Board of Trade can heartily recommend our new editor to all residents of the Beiseker district and it is hoped that they will co-operate with Mr. Pue through subscriptions to the paper and advertising. Arrangements for advertising and subscriptions should be made through the local agent, Mr. N. J. Velker

"Wishing you every success, we are,

"Yours very truly,
K. A. WRIGHT,
Sec.-Treas."

Community Publications is pleased to co-operate in every way with the Boards of Trade of every town served by any one of the 26 papers published by us.

VOYAGEUR

Vogageur, the skiff is ready,
Climb aboard, be on your way.
Slow the tide runs, smooth and steady,
Thou can'st yet see the break of day.

Soon the clouds, pinked tipped glowing,
Will herald the rising of the sun.
Voyageur commence your rowing,
While the waters smoothly run.

Voyageur, art thou ready?
For strong must be the rowers' grip.
When the waters become unsteady,
And the daylight shadows dip.

See against the eastern skyline,
Lies the harbor for all ships,
Can you follow true the line,
Safely pilot in your ship?

There on that restless tide of water,
Storms may gather ere the day,
Many ships have bravely fought her,
Many ships have lost their way.

So Voyageur the skiff is ready,
Head it eastward, to the light.
Dawn is breaking — the tide is steady,
Pilot it safely through by night.

Through the rocks and shoals of trouble,
Through the very ports of Hell,
Voyageur, your pay is doubled,
For you have earned that harbor well.

B. P. C.—Killam.

Prosperity Spring Work in Full Swing

PROSPERITY. — Spring work is well under way in Prosperity. Mr. Skrypnuk was the first farmer to start seeding this spring.

The Prosperity Timber Wolves downed the Deer Run Maroons 28 to 12. Peter Makare was the outstanding Timber Wolf player for he knocked four home-runs.

A track meet will be held at Amber Valley on May 19. Practising for the track meet has commenced in Hammond school. Peter Makar feels very certain that he will capture the pole-vaulting title, as he can clear at least 8½ feet.

Stanley Zambal has returned to Prosperity after staying in Toronto for six months.

A two-and-one-half hour play will be presented in Hammond school by the Prosperity Youth Club.

Hammond school pupils have planned to take an educational trip to Edmonton in June.

A new highway is being constructed through Prosperity. It will shorten the Trans-Prosperity route by two miles.

BRIEREVILLE LOCAL NEWS

BRIEREVILLE.—Mr. and Mrs. Glachen are holding church services in the school house on Sunday, 7:00 p.m., and Wednesday, 8:00 p.m.

Roy Whitford and family have moved to eastern Briereville, the Veteran neighborhood.

The Briereville ball team intends to visit the McRae team on Sunday. The school children's team is going to Grandin also on Sunday so Briereville will be quite lonesome.

Miss Croutze, our teacher, was away during holidays. We sure hope she enjoyed herself. She had the children selling tickets on a pen, for some worthy cause. Mr. Tickner from Rich Lake was the lucky man.

Harvey Kaufman lost a heifer to the big bad wolves. If only the wise man that intends to hunt them down by plane would come out, we'd be happy.

Peter Gaberel also lost two sheep.

McRAE GIRLS' CLUB NEWS

McRAE. — The McRae "Busy Bees" held their regular meeting on April 30. There were no demonstrations given, but in the business part of the meeting plans were made for the following meeting on May 11.

We will have Miss Lewis, nutrition specialist from Edmonton, and Miss Rioux, district home economist as guest speakers. Lunch will be served by club members.

FRAINS LOCAL NEWS

FRAINS. — On May 15 the meeting will be held in Frains school talking of fixing Frains' roads. Speaker will be D. Sadownig of Grassland.

Mr. Oliver Trudeau purchased a new tiller-combine and he is very busy seeding.

All young people of Frains went to a dance on Friday night to Twin Spruce. They had a real good time and came back at 6:00 a.m.

Mr. and Mrs. John Soliski of Edmonton came to visit Mr. and Mrs. Dan Soliski last Sunday.

Frains' school children were in Boyle Friday by truck to play softball. The score was 12 to 6 in favor of Frains.

Peter Holowenko made two trips to Lamont with fence posts. While crossing on Waskatenau ferry the water was so low that he had trouble.

Nick Kuchmuik and Baris Hassynec made a trip to Redwater by car on Sunday.

Steve Shyian was the first farmer that finished seeding on May 6.

FORESTBURG. — The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Evan Roberts was christened Patricia Ann Vivian at the United Church on Mother's Day, Rev. Mr. Clegg officiating.
